

C508Bc

Lars Porrena, chief
clerksman, collected an
the federated cities of Etruria advanced upon Rome.
destroyed the Tiber bridge could reach them. Horatius kept one bridge until it (Horatius at the Bridge). Rome to PORRENA and yielded.

to Veii and to other towns In Etruria also arose
driven out monarchs
Rome was weakened
but her revolution re-

508BC

Under Tarquinus Superbus
the Monarchy became
and Etruscan influence

He surrounded himself
guard, degraded freemen
of forced labor, had citizens in the Forum put to death leaders of the upper class insolent brutality the

him the hatred of influence He attacked the NUTULI and while he was with the as assembled and deposed him in one of the great turning Roman history

Roman Religion

The religious beliefs of changed with the stages through which the Roman

The Romans recognized
of gods: the di indigetes gods of the Roman state and novensides, who were

c 508 B C

Athenian Constitution

508 BC

ETRUSCAN War

The Romans were at
but as the Etruscans Ad LATIUM, they were de
lateris, and being un
the Romans. Rome
former position of
HORATIO COCLE'S h
over the Tiber.

508 BC

The Temple of ZEUS at
was begun

508BC

CLEISTHENES reformed Constitution of Athens into democratic government.

Darius I crossed the
on a bridge of boats
to the Danube.

508 BC

The Etruscan ruler
PORSENA attacks Rome
defence of the bridge
over TIBER by HOR

508BC

Democratic Constitution
CLEISTHENES,

508 BC

Rome makes treaty with